GOVERNMENT TO SHOW SURPLUS NEXT JUNE

PRES. COOLIDGE MAKES REPORT TO CONGRESS

TOTAL RECEIPTS FOR FISCAL YEAR 1929 EXPECTED TO SHOW LOSS

POSTAL DEFICIT, MR. COOLIDGE
SAID, ACCOUNTS FOR $68,000,000
INCREASED EXPENSES

By CECIL OWEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 5. — President Coolidge today submitted to congress the budget for the fiscal year 1930, totaling with postal service payments, $4,417,379,904 as compared with $4,328,028,236 in 1929 appropriations.

In his accompanying message, the president revealed that the government upon closing its books next June at the end of the fiscal year will have a surplus of $36,990,192, but he warned that "we have no immediate prospect of any further reduction in taxes."

The predicted surplus caused surprise on the Hill as Budget Director Lord had said in July there would be a $94,000,000 deficit unless government expenditures were sharply curtailed.

Decrease in Receipts
Total receipts of the government in the fiscal year 1929 were estimated by Mr. Coolidge at $3,831,735,661, as compared with receipts in the fiscal year 1928 of $4,042,348,156. Expenditures for 1929 were put at $3,794,745,469, as compared with the expenditures last year of $3,643,519,875.

The surplus for the fiscal year 1928, which closed June 30 last, was $398,828,281, which was $55,000,000 less than the estimated surplus. Taking into consideration the $50,000,000 appropriated by congress subsequent to transmission of the budget for settlement of war claims, the president said the difference between the estimated and actual surplus in 1928 was but $5,000,000.

"This current year, 1929, the outlook is not so bright," he continued, explaining that the forecast in 1927 of a surplus of $252,540,283 for the fiscal year of 1929 has been materially changed. "With actual operations for four months of the current fiscal year of record and a clearer conception of what we face, the estimate is now our surplus this year will be $36,990,192. While this margin of receipts over expenditures is small, it is most gratifying, as on July 1, last, the best estimate that could be made indicated a deficit of about $94,000,000."

"The surplus now estimated is based on receipts amounting to $3,831,735,661 and expenditures of $3,794,745,469. The difference between the estimate of a year ago and this estimate is primarily reflected in the expenditure figures which have increased $238,000,000."

The postal deficit, Mr. Coolidge said accounts for $68,000,000 of this estimated increase in expenditures. Included in that amount is about $9,000,000 for overtime pay of postal employees, another $9,000,000 for carrying ocean and air mail, $14,000,000 for increase in rail transportation rates, and a $36,000,000 reduction in postal revenues.

Flood Control Expense
Expenditures for flood control account for $16,000,000. Public buildings under construction and roads being built account for $26,000,000. Increases in pensions raise the expenditures by $11,000,000 and increases in pay of government employees account for $21,000,000.

Tax refunds show an estimated increase of $18,000,000 and interest payments of $5,000,000, while the Navy and Shipping Board expenditures, the message said, account for $26,000,000. These were cited as the major items which enter into the increased government expenditures this year.

For the fiscal year 1930, which will commence on July 1 next, Mr. Coolidge forecast a surplus of $60,576,182. Though the surplus margin for both the current and next year is small, he added, it is satisfactory as it points to a balanced budget.

"It is clear," he warned, "that we cannot assume any great additional expenditures without jeopardizing this favorable outlook. We are committed irrevocably to a balanced budget and that carries the assurance that the only revision of our tax laws which will be considered is a revision downward."

"We have no immediate prospect of any further reduction in tax rates;"

ENGLISH DICTUM ON THREE-MILE LIMIT OVER COASTAL WATERS

London, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — Great Britain has not recognized the claim of any government to sovereignty over coastal waters beyond the three-mile limit, Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary, told Commander J. K. Kenworthy, laborite, in response to a question in the house of commons today.

JUDGE IS COMMENDED FOR HUMANENESS

SENTENCED YOUNG COUPLE TO PRACTICE BIRTH CONTROL
FOR 3 YEARS

JUDGE SHOULD NOW TAKE AN-
OTHER STEP, SAYS E. HALDE-
MAN JULIUS

Girard, Kas., Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — Commending Judge Harrison Ewing of Cleveland, for his honesty and humaneness in sentencing a young couple to practice birth control for three years, E. Haldeman Julius, father of a companionate bride, declared the judge should go one step further and oppose the "absurd and medieval federal laws which forbid the dissemination of birth control information."

Applying for a divorce when their meagre earnings of $24 a week were insufficient to rear the three children that resulted from their marriage union, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kourim were denied the divorce by Judge Harrison Ewing and told to practice birth control for three years or face a $1000 fine for contempt of court.

"The judge is honest, humane and in step with the best thought of our time," Haldeman Julius commented to the United Press today.

His daughter, Josephine, last month observed the first anniversary of her companionate marriage with Aubrey Roselle, both of Girard, Kas. One of the terms of the companionate marriage contract is the dissemination of birth control information.

"But the judge should raise his voice against the absurd and medieval federal laws which forbid the dissemination of birth control information," Haldeman Julius continued. "If the judge were to mail the young couple the necessary information, he would have to go to a federal prison for two years. Let congress put an end to its cruel and inhuman law against contraceptive information."

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 5. — Judge Ben B. Lindsey, famous Denver judge and champion of companionate marriage, is opposed to compulsory birth control.

"I cannot agree that any court has the right to impose birth control on a man or woman," Lindsey said in a statement to the United Press, commenting on a unique decision handed down by a Cleveland, Ohio, judge sentencing a young couple to three years of birth control.

Judge Lindsey recognized, however, the precedent established by the decision.

"The Cleveland decision is unique in that the judge recognizes the legality of birth control," Lindsey said. Judge Lindsey meanwhile intends to carry on his fight for the "opportunity for the freedom of choice of women in this country to have their children when they want them and not on a basis of chance."

but we have no thought of curtailing in any way the benefits which have gone to the people by the four reductions already made in taxes."

French Debt Status
The president referred to the $406,566,762.42 French war debt to the United States which matures on August 1, 1929, but he said it was not included in the budget because of the possibility that it may be funded by ratification of the Berenger debt settlement agreement. This agreement spread the payments over a 62-year period and reduced interest rates.

Though the French government has so far failed to ratify the agreement, it is still expected that it may be approved prior to August when the bonds mature, Mr. Coolidge said. He recommended to congress that, if

President-Elect Hoover Lands In Peru Today, Largest Country Visited In His Long Tour

MARYLAND DROPS ANCHOR IN THE CALLAO HARBOR

MAYOR OF CALLAO WELCOMES HOOVER PARTY AT THE DOCK

AMERICAN SHIP EXCHANGES 21-
GUN SALUTE WITH PERUV-
IAN WARSHIP

Lima, Peru, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — President-elect Herbert Hoover landed in Peru today, the largest country he has yet visited in his Latin American tour.

The U. S. S. Maryland, carrying the Hoover party, dropped anchor in Callao harbor at 7:15 A. M. and Foreign Minister Ada Gamio, the American ambassador, Alexander P. Moore and the American naval mission to Peru, headed by Rear Admiral A. G. Howe, went aboard the Maryland to welcome the visiting statesman.

Mayor Carlos Roe of Callao welcomed the party as it landed at the docks. A large crowd enthusiastically cheered the American president-elect as he entered an automobile to drive to Lima, the capital, for the official welcome by President Augusto B. Leguia of Peru.

As the Maryland dropped anchor in the harbor, she exchanged the national salute of 21 guns with the Peruvian warship Almirante Grau, which has escorted the Maryland since Peruvian waters were reached.

The Peruvian cruiser Bolonnes I joined the Maryland outside the harbor. When the firing of the salute was finished, scores of small boats put out from the shore and surrounded the Maryland.

Ambassador Moore in welcoming Mr. Hoover on board the Maryland said: "Mr. Hoover, you are now among friends. The people of Peru have similar aims and ambitions to those of the people of the United States."

Foreign Minister Rada Y Gamio in extending a welcome on behalf of President Leguia said the visit of the president-elect was an event in the epochal history of the United States and Peru and in the pages of continental fraternity.

"Your excellency comes like a herald with a message of peace," the minister said. "In Peru, you will surely feel in your heart the throbs of the Peruvian soul full of love for the glorious and powerful nation you represent."

The foreign minister wished Mr. Hoover a "happy stay in Peru and increasing splendor to your glorious Stars and Stripes."

Troops and police were scattered along the 8-mile Avenida Progresso leading to Lima and kept the cheering crowds back as the procession of automobiles passed.

Banners of "Welcome Hoover," "Vive Hoover," "Vive the United States," "Vive Peru," "Vive Leguia" were strung along the route.

The party found typical foggy weather at Callao, but the weather cleared during the trip to the capital.

The official party reached Lima at 10:30 A. M. and proceeded to the United States embassy through streets crowded with welcoming throngs. Many automobiles trailed the official procession, making a line four miles long.

After a brief pause at the embassy where Mr. Hoover was welcomed by the mayor of Lima, the party proceeded to the palace to visit President Leguia.

They reached the palace at 11 A. M. While Mr. Hoover visited the president, Mrs. Hoover left the palace with President Leguia's daughter, Senora Lola Leguia Martinez.

They visited the cathedral which, with the palace, faces on the Central Plaza de Las Armas.

MIDDLE WEST SHIVERS IN THE GRIP OF COLD

TOMORROW HIGHER TEMPERA-
TURES, GENERAL OVER MID-
WEST, ARE FORECAST

BREAK IN COLD WAVE STARTED
TODAY IN THE NORTH-WEST

Chicago, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — The middle west shivered today in the season's first cold snap but relief was in sight.

Tomorrow higher temperatures, general over the midwest, were forecast. The break in the cold wave started today in the northwest. An inch of snow fell here yesterday, making the streets slushy until last night when a freeze formed a layer of ice.

The minimum thermometer reading for today will be 15, the weather forecaster said.

AFTON BANK IS ORDERED CLOSED

FOLLOWING CONFESSION OF MIS-APPROPRIATION BY ITS CASHIER

St. Paul, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — The Citizens State Bank of Afton was closed today following the reported confession by Harry A. Swenson, cashier, that he had misappropriated $28,000 of the bank's funds.

A. J. Veigel, state banking commissioner, declared that Swenson made a clean breast of the misappropriation after the shortage in his accounts had been discovered by N. D. Dixon, bank examiner.

The warrant for Swenson's arrest is expected to be issued late today.

Veigel said that when the cashier was brought to his office late Tuesday he first admitted misappropriating $23,000 and upon continued questioning confessed that he had taken an additional $5,000.

The sums listed by Veigel according to Swenson's confession included: $1,950 in securities left by depositors; 69 forged notes ranging up to $350, only one of which was less than $100, and $500 from the cash account.

"DAPPER DANNY" HOGAN IS VICTIM OF UNDERWORLD

GANGSTER BOMB SNUFFS OUT
LIFE OF "AMBASSADOR"
OF GANGS

POLICE MOBILIZE EVERY MAN TO AVERT THREATENED WAR OF REPRISAL

St. Paul, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — "Dapper Danny" Hogan, recognized ambassador of the St. Paul underworld lay dead today—victim of a gangster bomb—and police mobilized every available man to avert the almost certain war of reprisal.

Hogan, hotel proprietor, restaurant keeper, gambler and friend of the lawless, died at St. Paul hospital on Tuesday night after his body had been shattered by a bomb attached to the starter of his automobile.

Police worked on the theory that Minneapolis gamblers had imported New York gangsters to put an end to Hogan with this comparatively recent weapon of destruction.

Hogan, always tight lipped, died without naming the enemies he perhaps knew were responsible for the dynamite "plant" placed in his automobile.

Physicians worked feverishly to save the underworld arbiter from death and were just about to attempt a blood transfusion when the end came. Mike O'Dowd, former middle-weight champion of the world, was among the score of Hogan's friends to rush to the hospital to offer their blood.

Hogan's body was badly shattered by the bomb and loss of blood added to the shock made it impossible for him to pull through the important first few hours.

Police admitted that they feared the friends of the 48-year-old gambler would retaliate by violence and as a defense measure a drive was planned to rid the Twin Cities of gangsters.

AVALANCHE IN ALPS TRAPS 80 RAIL PASSENGERS

Innsbruck, Austria, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — An avalanche in the Alberg pass buried the railroad station at Langen and trapped 80 passengers in a train.

They were liberated today after the train had been partly covered for 52 hours. Buried with them were two Barnum circus vans containing wild animals.

The avalanche also overturned five freight cars at Langen, burying three railroad employees. An engineer, Banik, was dug from the debris unconscious and taken to a hospital.

The Alberg spur of the Alps is in the Austrian Tyrol. The railroad runs through a tunnel under the pass which is more than six miles long.

BURNED SULPHUR CANDLES AGAINST ORDER OF COURT

West Orange, N. J., Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — A mosquito in West Orange is worth $10 to Eugene Selos, dead or alive. A police court judge told Selos he would remit a $10 fine for burning sulphur candles against a court order if Selos could produce a single mosquito. Selos had insisted the candles were necessary because he was bothered by the insects.

KING GEORGE HAS FAIR NIGHT, INFECTION STAYED

FORCED TO CALL UPON ALL HIS STRENGTH TO FIGHT AN-OTHER REVERSE

FOR A PERIOD THE MONARCH
SUFFERED GREATEST DISCOMFORT

By KEITH JONES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Dec. 5. — King George passed a fair night and there are reasons to hope the recrudescence of the infection which caused the last rise in temperature is being moderated, an official bulletin issued at 11 A. M. said. The bulletin was signed by Lord Dawson of Penn, physician in ordinary, and Sir Stanley Hewett, apothecary-surgeon to the king.

The bulletin said: "The king passed a fair night. There are reasons to hope that the recrudescence of the infection which caused the last rise in temperature is being moderated."

Signed, Stanley Hewett, Dawson of Penn."

The king was forced to call upon his strength again during the night to fight off another of the reverses which have affected him during his fifteen days of illness.

At midnight, reliable information from Buckingham Palace said the king was suffering great discomfort, but within an hour, the condition had abated and he was resting more comfortably.

By daybreak, he had had a little sleep.

Sir Stanley Hewett spent the entire night at the palace, but it was not considered necessary to call the other physicians when the king became worse at midnight.

The Prince of Wales, who has arrived at Aden enroute to the bedside of his father, has become anxious about the king's condition and has sent several radio messages asking constant information. Queen Mary has dictated personally the reassuring messages to her son.

The turn in the king's condition is generally considered to be only another phase in the fluctuations in his illness during the last two weeks. There is no doubt that the king has been forced to put up a hard fight against the lung congestion and weakening of his heart which developed from a slight cold only a few days ago.

No bulletin was issued by the court physicians at midnight.

Letters creating the commission to act for the king were sealed with the great seal of England today. Immediately afterward the queen, the duke of York and Premier Stanley Baldwin began signing documents accumulated during the king's illness.

London, Dec. 5. — The British official wireless today said the more favorable bulletin on King George's condition this morning has relieved public anxiety. It was pointed out that the bulletin explained the reason for the rise in temperature yesterday and showed an improvement in the condition which caused it.

Aden, Dec. 5. — The British cruiser Enterprise, with the Prince of Wales aboard arrived here today.

The prince was standing on the bridge of the Enterprise as it approached the moorings. It is understood he expects to arrive in Suez Friday and Brindisi, Italy, Monday.

The prince made the trip from Dar-es-Salaam, Tanganyika, to Aden, a distance of approximately 1,750 miles, in 73 1/2 hours.

CHICKENS OF "JOE" WERE "COMING HOME TO ROOST"

BRAINERD TRIAL JANUARY 7,
DULUTH LIQUOR CHARGE
JANUARY 12

IF FREED, JACKSON COUNTY IS EXPECTED TO CLAIM AL-LEGED BANDIT

Brainerd, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — The proverbial chickens of John "Joe" Courtney were "coming home to roost" today and the return seemed without end.

Courtney arraigned before Judge Bert Fesler in Crow Wing county district court on two criminal indictments in connection with the robbery of the First National Bank of Ironton was later ordered to appear before federal district court at Duluth on charges of possession of a still.

The Crow Wing indictments charged Courtney with robbery in the first degree and with entering a banking room to commit a felony. Both charges were in connection with the $36,000 robbery of the Ironton bank a year ago and to both Courtney pleaded "not guilty."

Judge Fesler set the trial date for January 7, five days before the alleged bandit is destined to appear before Judge John B. Sanborn in Duluth on the federal liquor law violation charge.

In the event that Courtney is freed both here and in Duluth Jackson county authorities are expected to claim him for trial in connection with the $25,000 robbery of the Brown National Bank at Jackson, last September. A. R. Alverdes, bookkeeper of the Jackson bank, declared Monday in St. Paul that he was positive Courtney was one of the four bandits who held up the institution.

Courtney was brought to Brainerd Tuesday by Sheriff Claus A. Theorin after St. Paul authorities had failed to link him with the $20,000 robbery of a pay car near South St. Paul in August.

St. Paul, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — With every available law enforcement agency mobilized today to prevent a possible gang war over the bomb-murder Tuesday of "Dapper Danny" Hogan, three motives were advanced by denizens of the underworld as the cause of the gambler's death.

First, it was said that hired killers had been obtained either in Chicago or Kansas City to connect a bomb to the starter on Hogan's car after Gus Nichols had been arrested in connection with a recent $150,000 diamond robbery in Minneapolis.

Those in the "know" declared that there had been "double crossing all along the line in the diamond robbery and some who were supposed to be in on the cut were left out in the cold."

Hogan was known to have been in Chicago and Kansas City recently and it is believed that he may have incurred the enmity of gangsters in those cities.

The second motive advanced was that the bombing was the outgrowth of the arrest of John "Joe" Courtney, now facing trial at Brainerd, Minn., in connection with a $36,000 bank robbery at Ironton. Courtney is known to have many friends who believed he had been given raw treatment because he was too ambitious.

The third motive, and the one given most credence, was that Hogan was the victim of a gamblers' feud. Minneapolis gamblers were said to have planned the destruction of "Dapper Dan" because he "cut in" on their territory.

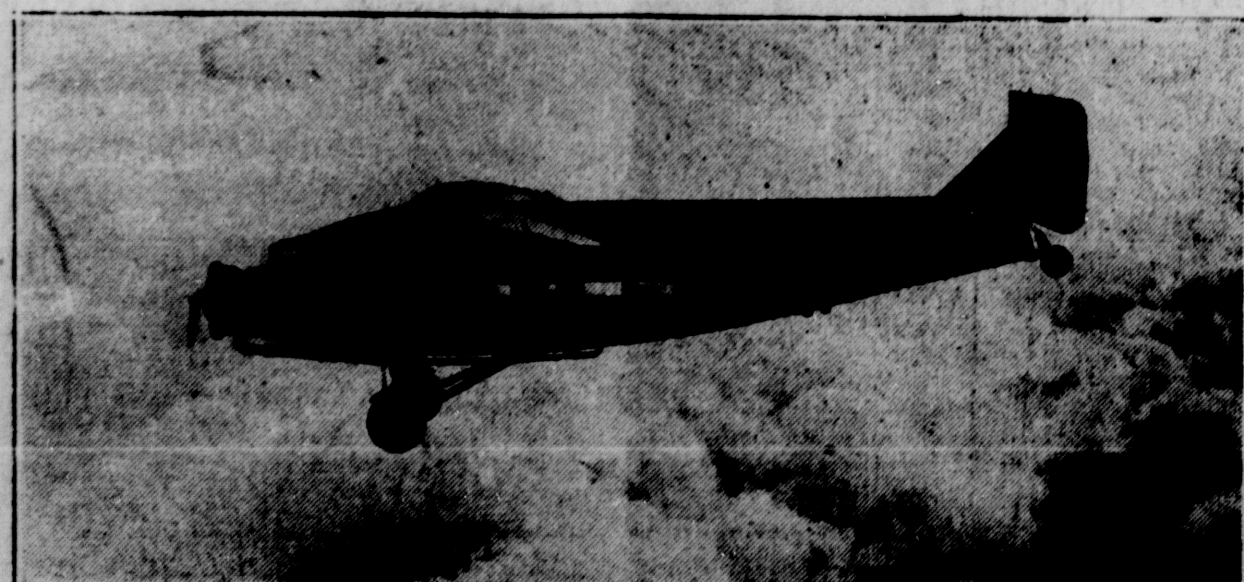

S. B. Qvale, northwest prohibition administrator, was one of those who believed that Hogan had been taken for the proverbial "ride" because of his gambling activities. Qvale declared that because gambling and bootlegging go hand in hand he was prepared to place every available man in his department at the disposal of police in the hunt for Hogan's slayers and to help thwart a possible war of retaliation.

Other agencies who offered their assistance to the authorities were the state department of criminal apprehension, and the Ramsey county enforcement officers.

Police had few clues upon which to work. Mrs. Hogan, the wife of Washington, Dec. 5. — President Coolidge today submitted to congress the budget for the fiscal year 1930, totaling with postal service payments, $4,417,379,904 as compared with $4,328,028,236 in 1929 appropriations.

TOMORROW HIGHER TEMPERATURES, GENERAL OVER MIDWEST, ARE FORECAST

BREAK IN COLD WAVE STARTED TODAY IN THE NORTHWEST

Chicago, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — The middle west shivered today in the season's first cold snap but relief was in sight.

Tomorrow higher temperatures, general over the midwest, were forecast. The break in the cold wave started today in the northwest. An inch of snow fell here yesterday, making the streets slushy until last night when a freeze formed a layer of ice.

The minimum thermometer reading for today will be 15, the weather forecaster said.

AFTON BANK IS ORDERED CLOSED

FOLLOWING CONFESSION OF MISAPPROPRIATION BY ITS CASHIER

St. Paul, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — The Citizens State Bank of Afton was closed today following the reported confession by Harry A. Swenson, cashier, that he had misappropriated $28,000 of the bank's funds.

A. J. Veigel, state banking commissioner, declared that Swenson had made a clean breast of the misappropriation after the shortage in his accounts had been discovered by N. D. Dixon, bank examiner.

The warrant for Swenson's arrest is expected to be issued late today.

Veigel said that when the cashier was brought to his office late Tuesday he first admitted misappropriating $23,000 and upon continued questioning confessed that he had taken an additional $5,000.

The sums listed by Veigel according to Swenson's confession included: $1,950 in securities left by depositors; 69 forged notes ranging up to $350, only one of which was less than $100, and $500 from the cash account.

"DAPPER DANNY" HOGAN IS VICTIM OF UNDERWORLD

GANGSTER BOMB SNUFFS OUT LIFE OF "AMBASSADOR" OF GANGS

POLICE MOBILIZE EVERY MAN TO AVERT THREATENED WAR OF REPRISAL

St. Paul, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — "Dapper Danny" Hogan, recognized ambassador of the St. Paul underworld lay dead today—victim of a gangster bomb—and police mobilized every available man to avert the almost certain war of reprisal.

Hogan, hotel proprietor, restaurant keeper, gambler and friend of the lawless, died at St. Paul hospital on Tuesday night after his body had been shattered by a bomb attached to the starter of his automobile.

Police worked on the theory that Minneapolis gamblers had imported New York gangsters to put an end to Hogan with this comparatively recent weapon of destruction.

Hogan, always tight lipped, died without naming the enemies he perhaps knew were responsible for the dynamite "plant" placed in his automobile.

Physicians worked feverishly to save the underworld arbiter from death and were just about to attempt a blood transfusion when the end came. Mike O'Dowd, former middle-weight champion of the world, was among the score of Hogan's friends to rush to the hospital to offer their blood.

Hogan's body was badly shattered by the bomb and loss of blood added to the shock made it impossible for him to pull through the important first few hours.

Police admitted that they feared the friends of the 48-year-old gambler would retaliate by violence and as a defense measure a drive was planned to rid the Twin Cities of gangsters.

AVALANCHE IN ALPS TRAPS 80 RAIL PASSENGERS

Innsbruck, Austria, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — An avalanche in the Alberg pass buried the railroad station at Langen and trapped 80 passengers in a train.

They were liberated today after the train had been partly covered for 52 hours. Buried with them were two Barnum circus vans containing wild animals.

The avalanche also overturned five freight cars at Langen, burying three railroad employees. An engineer, Bank, was dug from the debris unconscious and taken to a hospital.

The Arlberg spur of the Alps is in the Austrian Tyrol. The railroad runs through a tunnel under the pass which is more than six miles long.

BURNED SULPHUR CANDLES AGAINST ORDER OF COURT

West Orange, N. J., Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — A mosquito in West Orange is worth $10 to Eugene Selos, dead or alive. A police court judge told Selos he would remit a $10 fine for burning sulphur candles against a court order if Selos could produce a single mosquito. Selos had insisted the candles were necessary because he was bothered by the insects.

KING GEORGE HAS FAIR NIGHT, INFECTION STAYED

FORCED TO CALL UPON ALL HIS STRENGTH TO FIGHT ANOTHER REVERSE

FOR A PERIOD THE MONARCH SUFFERED GREATEST DISCOMFORT

By KEITH JONES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Dec. 5. — King George passed a fair night and there are reasons to hope the recrudescence of the infection which caused the last rise in temperature is being moderated, an official bulletin issued at 11 A. M. said. The bulletin was signed by Lord Dawson of Penn, physician in ordinary, and Sir Stanley Hewett, apothecary-surgeon to the king.

The bulletin said: "The king passed a fair night. There are reasons to hope that the recrudescence of the infection which caused the last rise in temperature is being moderated."

Signed, Stanley Hewett, Dawson of Penn."

The king was forced to call upon his strength again during the night to fight off another of the reverses which have affected him during his fifteen days of illness.

At midnight, reliable information from Buckingham Palace said the king was suffering great discomfort, but within an hour, the condition had abated and he was resting more comfortably.

By daybreak, he had had a little sleep.

Sir Stanley Hewett spent the entire night at the palace, but it was not considered necessary to call the other physicians when the king became worse at midnight.

The Prince of Wales, who has arrived at Aden enroute to the bedside of his father, has become anxious about the king's condition and has sent several radio messages asking constant information. Queen Mary has dictated personally the reassuring messages to her son.

The turn in the king's condition is generally considered to be only another phase in the fluctuations in his illness during the last two weeks. There is no doubt that the king has been forced to put up a hard fight against the lung congestion and weakening of his heart which developed from a slight cold only a few days ago.

No bulletin was issued by the court physicians at midnight.

Letters creating the commission to act for the king were sealed with the great seal of England today. Immediately afterward the queen, the duke of York and Premier Stanley Baldwin began signing documents accumulated during the king's illness.

London, Dec. 5. — The British official wireless today said the more favorable bulletin on King George's condition this morning has relieved public anxiety. It was pointed out that the bulletin explained the reason for the rise in temperature yesterday and showed an improvement in the condition which caused it.

Aden, Dec. 5. — The British cruiser Enterprise, with the Prince of Wales aboard arrived here today.

The prince was standing on the bridge of the Enterprise as it approached the moorings. It is understood he expects to arrive in Suez Friday and Brindisi, Italy, Monday.

The prince made the trip from Dar-es-Salaam, Tanganyika, to Aden, a distance of approximately 1,750 miles, in 73 1/2 hours.

CHICKENS OF "JOE" WERE "COMING HOME TO ROOST"

BRAINERD TRIAL JANUARY 7, DULUTH LIQUOR CHARGE JANUARY 12

IF FREED, JACKSON COUNTY IS EXPECTED TO CLAIM ALLEGED BANDIT

Brainerd, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — The proverbial chickens of John "Joe" Courtney were "coming home to roost" today and the return seemed without end.

Courtney arraigned before Judge Bert Fesler in Crow Wing county district court on two criminal indictments in connection with the robbery of the First National Bank of Ironton was later ordered to appear before federal district court at Duluth on charges of possession of a still.

The Crow Wing indictments charged Courtney with robbery in the first degree and with entering a banking room to commit a felony. Both charges were in connection with the $36,000 robbery of the Ironton bank a year ago and to both Courtney pleaded "not guilty."

Judge Fesler set the trial date for January 7, five days before the alleged bandit is destined to appear before Judge John B. Sanborn in Duluth on the federal liquor law violation charge.

In the event that Courtney is freed both here and in Duluth Jackson county authorities are expected to claim him for trial in connection with the $25,000 robbery of the Brown National Bank at Jackson, last September. A. R. Alverdes, bookkeeper of the Jackson bank, declared Monday in St. Paul that he was positive Courtney was one of the four bandits who held up the institution.

Courtney was brought to Brainerd Tuesday by Sheriff Claus A. Theorin after St. Paul authorities had failed to link him with the $20,000 robbery of a pay car near South St. Paul in August.

St. Paul, Dec. 5. — (U.P.) — With every available law enforcement agency mobilized today to prevent a possible gang war over the bomb-murder Tuesday of "Dapper Danny" Hogan, three motives were advanced by denizens of the underworld as the cause of the gambler's death.

First, it was said that hired killers had been obtained either in Chicago or Kansas City to connect a bomb to the starter on Hogan's car after Gus Nichols had been arrested in connection with a recent $150,000 diamond robbery in Minneapolis.

Those in the "know" declared that there had been "double crossing all along the line in the diamond robbery and some who were supposed to be in on the cut were left out in the cold."

Hogan was known to have been in Chicago and Kansas City recently and it is believed that he may have incurred the enmity of gangsters in those cities.

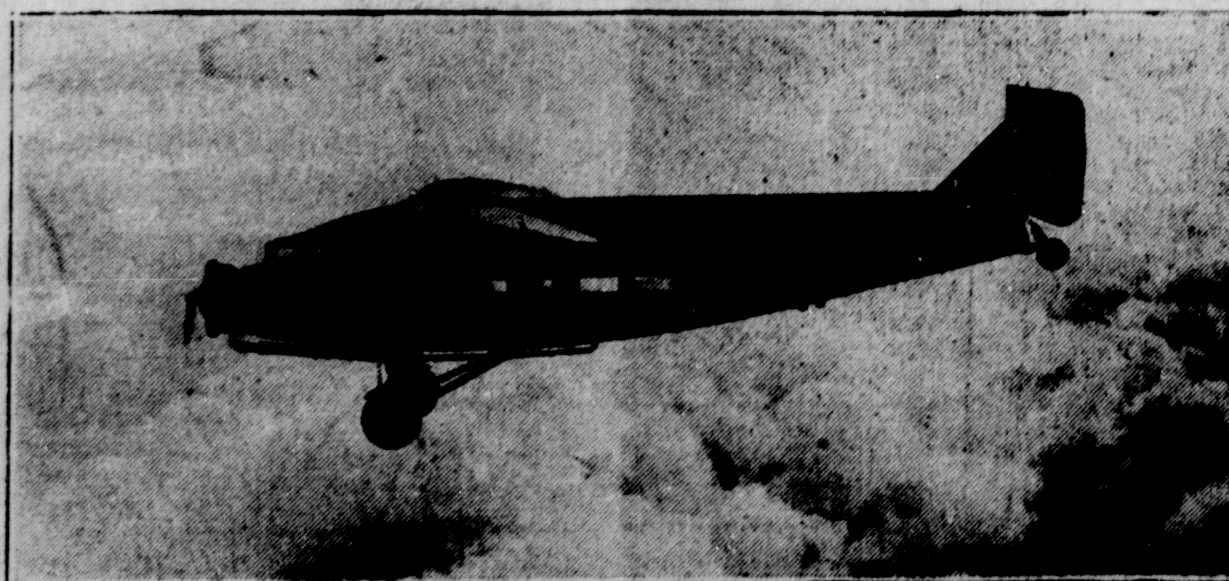

The second motive advanced was that the bombing was the outgrowth of the arrest of John "Joe" Courtney, now facing trial at Brainerd, Minn., in connection with a $36,000 bank robbery at Ironton. Courtney is known to have many friends who believed he had been given raw treatment because he was too ambitious. The third motive, and the one given most credence, was that Hogan was the victim of a gamblers' feud. Minneapolis gamblers were said to have planned the destruction of "Dapper Danny" because he "cut in" on their territory.

S. B. Qvale, northwest prohibition administrator, was one of those who believed that Hogan had been taken for the proverbial "ride" because of his gambling activities. Qvale declared that because gambling and bootlegging go hand in hand he was prepared to place every available man in his department at the disposal of police in the hunt for Hogan's slayers and to help thwart a possible war of retaliation.

Other agencies who offered their assistance to the authorities were the state department of criminal apprehension, and the Ramsey county enforcement officers. Police had few clues upon which to work. Mrs. Hogan, the wife of

OF CO-EDS ENDS
IN A BIG BRAWL

Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—(UP)—The desire of men students at the University of Southern California to participate in the half-nude revels of co-eds in Bovard auditorium here last night is alleged to have precipitated a brawl which led to the expulsion of one student and probable suspension of several others.

The "Hi-jinx" festival, an annual co-ed function, was interrupted when a band of students, allegedly attempting to "crash the gates," were met at the door by two sergeants-at-arms, believed to have been members of the university faculty. A fist encounter followed.

University authorities have issued no statement concerning the affair.

COURTNEY KEPT UNDER CLOSE GUARD IN JAIL

County Authorities Hear of Plot Rumor to Steal Prisoner From Jail

SUSPECT NOT TALKATIVE "Dapper Dan's" Death Believed Linked With Trial Here January 7

"Boxcar" Joe Courtney had a shave and a haircut today. The tonsorial work was carried out in a small cell completely surrounded by bars in the middle of the county jail. The need of a general cleanup was evident. Yesterday afternoon he presented an unkempt appearance as he was taken before Judge Bert Fesler in district court and after two indictments had been read to him concerning complicity in the First National bank of Ironton robbery, he entered a plea of no guilty. Judge Fesler set the trial for January 7.

An attendant at the county jail did the tonsorial work after Courtney had refused to shave with a safety razor. A ten days growth of beard removed and his hair cut, Joe announced that he felt better. His request that his moustache be trimmed but not cut off was complied with.

After his shave Joe became quiet again and maintained an attitude of reserve.

The prisoner who at present holds the limelight of police circle activities in the state is taking his confinement in a nonchalant manner.

"No, Joe is not nervous, he has long ago passed that stage," said Sheriff Theorin this morning, "he did appear slightly nervous on his trip to Brainerd from St. Paul, coughing considerably."

Crow Wing county authorities are holding on to Joe Courtney tenaciously. He is kept under constant watch at the jail to prevent any attempt of an outbreak or an attempt by the underworld to take the prisoner from the jail.

The sheriff's department today heard of the rumor that the two gasoline station holdups conducted in Brainerd and Fort Ripley were executed for the principal reason of diverting attention of the department from Courtney in order that the prisoner may be taken from the county jail while deputies were on the trial of the gas station bandits.

While Sheriff Theorin is of the opinion that the holdups have no connection with Courtney he is taking no chances with his prisoner and maintaining strict guard at the jail.

While Sheriff Theorin supervises the search for the station bandits from his office in the court house special deputies are conducting a search for the two bandits who are believed to have staged the two jobs and to have held up a restaurant at Wadena Sunday evening escaping with $400.

"Dapper Dan" Hogan's death, victim of a bombing plot by members of a St. Paul gang, was today rumored here as being linked with the Courtney case.

It is reported here today that "Dapper Dan" knew "too much" concerning the Ironton bank robbery and that he was bumped off for that reason.

It is claimed here that the bandits who robbed the First National bank of Ironton of $36,000 in November 1927, $10,000 of which has been recovered through the arrest and sentence of Almon H. Proctor, former cashier of the bank and "in" on the plot, planned the robbery of the bank in the hotel owned by "Dapper Dan" in St. Paul and that the dead underworld chief knew details of the robbery which if brought to light would prove incriminating against the holdup men.

The rumor is being considered here that "Dapper Dan" was to have been called as a witness against Courtney and in that event he was "taken for a ride" by means of a bomb attached to his car motor to keep him quiet.

Although county authorities have questioned Courtney in jail here since his return from St. Paul yesterday noon, Courtney has emphatically stated that he will not talk, that his attorney will do all the talking for him.

Courtney will be defended in the trial here which promises sensationalism by Thomas McMeekin, prominent Twin City criminal lawyer, former Brainerd boy.

Sheriff Earl Brown of Hennepin county today notified Sheriff Claus Theorin that he "wanted" Courtney, should he be released here, for skipping bail bond on October 24, 1927. Simultaneously came the request from Edward Rustard, United States marshal that he has a bench warrant for Courtney for jumping a federal bond at Duluth.

Among other phases of the Ironton robbery which the state will attempt to prove against Courtney will be that he acted as a "go between" of the bandits in executing the hold-up.

Courtney is said to have lost out on his share of the loot from the bandits and that on two occasions attempted to "collect" from Proctor.

P. G. McGarry, Ironton pool hall proprietor who was acquitted of the charge of complicity in the holdup by a Crow Wing county jury at the spring session of court has been subpoenaed as a material witness for the state in the prosecution of Courtney.

A number of escapades which Courtney is alleged to have participated in in this district during his residence at Barrows will be checked up by authorities before the prisoner is brought to trial.

These include: Shooting the tires of the car of a former county official as she passed near his home.

Participation in hijacking schemes and liquor running.

County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan will conduct the state's case with possible assistance from the attorney general's office.

"WHEN WINTER COMES"

"If Winter Comes" and brings snow, 2,500 men will be ready to open the trunk highways in Minnesota and keep them open for travel, says a bulletin of the Highway Department. To aid in the work they will have 150 "speed" plows, about 70 tractor plows and 15 rotaries. The department also has 3,048,000 feet of snow fence to keep drifts off the roads.

Must cost a lot of money? Not as much as you might think. Only a portion of the men are full time employees such as mechanics in the district shops and section men with truck units who do graveling, blading and other maintenance work when there is no snow. Most of the maintenance men work on a part time basis and many others are simply men subject to emergency call.

What does it cost the motorist? The total snow fighting bill last winter, which was unusual severe, averaged 80 cents for each motor vehicle in Minnesota. The total cost was about half as much as car owners in the state spent for radiator solutions. It was 1-600th of state's annual motoring bill.

Not every motorist paid 80 cents to the fund. The extra gas tax which comes in because the highways are open more than pays the snow removal bill. Those who do not drive in winter pay nothing. Those who drive a lot pay a little more than 80 cents.

The department is a little better organized and equipped for snow fighting than ever before. The maintenance equipment on more than half the system has been motorized, each section man having a truck or tractor, to which he attaches a snow plow when needed, and which is used for other work at other times. In ordinary snow falls, he should be able to open his section in a few hours. When drifts are very deep, the rotaries will be sent in.

Nevertheless, no one should expect all the roads to be open all the time, Commissioner C. M. Babcock warns. Usually it is futile to do any plowing during a storm, as it piles up ridges which catch more snow and make more work. It also wears out men and equipment. By waiting until the storm lets up, the men are fresh when the big battle begins.

Persons planning long trips should prepare for some hardships, suggests a highway bulletin. Even if you start when the sun is shining and the ground is bare, it is well to carry chains and a shovel, for snow may come quickly at this season in Minnesota. Machines should be in condition so they will not be put out of commission by sudden temperature drops. Travelers are urged to carry extra clothing for emergencies.

The bulletin also advises against long night trips when there is heavy snow or signs of an approaching storm. If a car should be stalled, it is usually much more difficult to get help or shelter at night than in the daytime.

IT MAKES HIM THINK

EVIDENTLY with winter coming on and expenses piling up, the Grand Rapids Herald-Review editor felt kind of pessimistic and delivered himself of this effusion:

There will be some activity in the woods this winter. But whether we like it or not, we must face the fact that as the years pass the winters are becoming more quiet in northern Minnesota.

Winter was at one time the harvest season. People rested and fished in summer and worked hard in winter, cutting and hauling timber and supplying the needs of the logging industry.

But timber is going. The winter season is long, cold and slow.

It is at the coming time of year that we think seriously of the future. We forget the summer with its pleasures and its tourists, its activities and its promises. We come down to hard thinking.

It is now that we have real appreciation of industry which employs people all of the year around, which works as hard in winter as in summer.

We now realize the importance of the dairy farmer who milks the cows and collects the cream checks.

We also wonder whether or not there are possibilities of bringing back this timber supply, maintaining such welcome activity as we now have or increasing prosperity as the years go on.

When the fishing and hunting seasons are over, important as they may be, we must get down to real thought and real activity. Winter is coming.

Here at Brainerd, we may suggest to the Grand Rapids man, a building program has been inaugurated that will give employment to many people. By keeping the main highways open, as originated by our efficient Highway Department, town and country continue to do business and take the edge off previous depressions. Winter at Brainerd is not such a serious matter as the Grand Rapids man would have us believe exists throughout northern Minnesota.

COUNTY HIGHWAY SYSTEM

Now that it appears certain that Amendment No. 1 has been ratified by a majority of the voters it would seem the part of wisdom to extend the county highway system so as to take in all the rural roads. Only in that way can we hope to get a rural highway system in Minnesota that will meet the needs of this motor age at all times.

The present method of having rural roads maintained by towns is unsatisfactory and in many instances wasteful in time and money. All road work should be done under the supervision of practical road builders and as every county in the state already has a county engineer, such a program would not involve any additional expense. Rather it would enable us to get much more for the money we spend for that purpose, and at the same time would in a few years give us a comprehensive and serviceable rural highway system.—Wadena Pioneer Journal.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE JOURNAL

THAT is a wonderful edition the Minneapolis Journal published on its fiftieth birthday. All the newspapermen of the state take great pride in it.

The Brainerd Dispatch rejoices in the fact that it is well acquainted with the editor of the Minneapolis Journal, knew his father too, and has always admired the paper produced.

In studying the pages of the anniversary edition one lingers and studies the records of the men and women, long employed by the Journal, who share in the honor of its production, and maybe that gives a hint as to why its pages are always of standard quality.

If the prisoner sensed net of circumstantial evidence closing in on him he failed to show it. Here he is as he descended steps on way back to the Tombs. (International Newsreel)

Needed Calories

As a rule it is appropriate to assume that an American man or woman who leads a quiet life at home with little exercise requires about 2,500 calories each day. If engaged in sedentary occupation, 3,000 calories are required. A moderate amount of exercise or a laborer doing light work needs about 3,500 calories. For hard work, 4,000 calories or more are necessary.

"WHEN WINTER COMES"

"If Winter Comes" and brings snow, 2,500 men will be ready to open the trunk highways in Minnesota and keep them open for travel, says a bulletin of the Highway Department. To aid in the work they will have 150 "speed" plows, about 70 tractor plows and 15 rotaries. The department also has 3,048,000 feet of snow fence to keep drifts off the roads.

Must cost a lot of money? Not as much as you might think. Only a portion of the men are full time employees such as mechanics in the district shops and section men with truck units who do graveling, blading and other maintenance work when there is no snow. Most of the maintenance men work on a part time basis and many others are simply men subject to emergency call.

What does it cost the motorist? The total snow fighting bill last winter, which was unusually severe, averaged 80 cents for each motor vehicle in Minnesota. The total cost was about half as much as car owners in the state spent for radiator solutions. It was 1-600th of state's annual motoring bill.

Not every motorist paid 80 cents to the fund. The extra gas tax which comes in because the highways are open more than pays the snow removal bill. Those who do not drive in winter pay nothing. Those who drive a lot pay a little more than 80 cents.

The department is a little better organized and equipped for snow fighting than ever before. The maintenance equipment on more than half the system has been motorized, each section man having a truck or tractor, to which he attaches a snow plow when needed, and which is used for other work at other times. In ordinary snow falls, he should be able to open his section in a few hours. When drifts are very deep, the rotaries will be sent in.

Nevertheless, no one should expect all the roads to be open all the time, Commissioner C. M. Babcock warns. Usually it is futile to do any plowing during a storm, as it piles up ridges which catch more snow and make more work. It also wears out men and equipment. By waiting until the storm lets up, the men are fresh when the big battle begins.

Persons planning long trips should prepare for some hardships, suggests a highway bulletin. Even if you start when the sun is shining and the ground is bare, it is well to carry chains and a shovel, for snow may come quickly at this season in Minnesota. Machines should be in condition so they will not be put out of commission by sudden temperature drops. Travelers are urged to carry extra clothing for emergencies.

The bulletin also advises against long night trips when there is heavy snow or signs of an approaching storm. If a car should be stalled, it is usually much more difficult to get help or shelter at night than in the daytime.

IT MAKES HIM THINK

EVIDENTLY with winter coming on and expenses piling up, the Grand Rapids Herald-Review editor felt kind of pessimistic and delivered himself of this effusion:

There will be some activity in the woods this winter. But whether we like it or not, we must face the fact that as the years pass the winters are becoming more quiet in northern Minnesota.

Winter was at one time the harvest season. People rested and fished in summer and worked hard in winter, cutting and hauling timber and supplying the needs of the logging industry. But timber is going. The winter season is long, cold and slow.

It is at the coming time of year that we think seriously of the future. We forget the summer with its pleasures and its tourists, its activities and its promises. We come down to hard thinking.

It is now that we have real appreciation of industry which employs people all of the year around, which works as hard in winter as in summer.

We now realize the importance of the dairy farmer who milks the cows and collects the cream checks.

We also wonder whether or not there are possibilities of bringing back this timber supply, maintaining such welcome activity as we now have or increasing prosperity as the years go on.

When the fishing and hunting seasons are over, important as they may be, we must get down to real thought and real activity. Winter is coming.

Here at Brainerd, we may suggest to the Grand Rapids man, a building program has been inaugurated that will give employment to many people. By keeping the main highways open, as originated by our efficient Highway Department, town and country continue to do business and take the edge off previous depressions. Winter at Brainerd is not such a serious matter as the Grand Rapids man would have us believe exists throughout northern Minnesota.

COUNTY HIGHWAY SYSTEM

Now that it appears certain that Amendment No. 1 has been ratified by a majority of the voters it would seem the part of wisdom to extend the county highway system so as to take in all the rural roads. Only in that way can we hope to get a rural highway system in Minnesota that will meet the needs of this motor age at all times.

The present method of having rural roads maintained by towns is unsatisfactory and in many instances wasteful in time and money. All road work should be done under the supervision of practical road builders and as every county in the state already has a county engineer, such a program would not involve any additional expense. Rather it would enable us to get much more for the money we spend for that purpose, and at the same time would in a few years give us a comprehensive and serviceable rural highway system.—Wadena Pioneer Journal.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE JOURNAL

THAT is a wonderful edition the Minneapolis Journal published on its fiftieth birthday. All the newspapermen of the state take great pride in it.

The Brainerd Dispatch rejoices in the fact that it is well acquainted with the editor of the Minneapolis Journal, knew his father too, and has always admired the paper produced.

In studying the pages of the anniversary edition one lingers and studies the records of the men and women, long employed by the Journal, who share in the honor of its production, and maybe that gives a hint as to why its pages are always of standard quality.

NATIONAL BASEBALL ASSOCIATION OPENS ANNUAL MEET

500 BASEBALL MEN FROM U. S., CANADA ATTEND

SELDOM HAS THERE BEEN LARGER ATTENDANCE AND LESS ACTION

WHISPERING CAMPAIGN PRODUCED NO TRADES OR DEALS OF NOTE

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 5.—(U.P.)—With more than 500 baseball men from the United States and Canada in attendance, the National Association, which embraces the thirty minor leagues, formally opened its annual meeting here today.

Seldom has there been a larger attendance, and less action. A whispering campaign through the corridors of the King Edward hotel has produced no trades or deals of consequence.

The International League, the Pacific Coast League and the American Association went into the meeting with a united front against any attempt to force upon them the universal draft, or "right to selection," as the majors prefer to call it.

A number of minor league officials had resolutions to propose embodying acceptance of the draft by all minor leagues, but the Class AA magnates had been working quietly and effectively during the last two days and anticipated no difficulty in maintaining their previous opposition to any such proposition.

If the National Association, in which each minor league has one vote, succeeded in passing any legislation contrary to the three big Class AA associations, the latter were prepared to withdraw and form a baseball organization of their own.

Leaders of the opposition to the universal draft felt, however, that such drastic action would not be necessary.

They had canvassed the field and believed before the meeting opened that they had the weight of opinion on their side.

One of the few deals consummated during the two days of conversation which preceded the opening of the meeting was that in which the Cleveland Indians obtained Jimmy Zinn, a right handed pitcher, from Kansas City, in exchange for George Gehren, outfielder, two unnamed players and cash.

Dairy Facts

Most cream separators will do a much better job of skimming the milk when it is warm.

The herd bull should be tied up or be penned away from the herd until, at least, November 1, as it is very important to avoid having cows freshen during the warm months.

The usual farm-grown ration does not contain enough protein for a good milk-producing ration. For instance, a ration made up of mixed hay, corn silage, cornmeal, oats and bran is lacking in protein, but contains an excess of carbohydrates and fat.

When the milking is done by machine, the rubber tubes and teat cups, after washing, should be placed in a disinfectant solution, allowed to soak until the next milking, and then rinsed out again with clean water before use.

By using pure-bred bulls it is possible to build a herd of scrub cattle into a high quality herd. This has been demonstrated at the South Dakota State college experiment station through approximately 15 years' investigation.

SPECTACULAR SHOTS BY 'BILL' MEHLHORN CARRY OFF TROPHY

Honolulu, T. H., Dec. 5.—(U.P.)—Spectacular shots on the sixteenth and seventeenth greens of an 18-hole play-off enabled "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn of Chicago to win the first annual Hawaiian $5,000 open golf championship here yesterday.

Mehlhorn's card of 78 was two strokes better than that turned in by Fred Morrison of Alhambra, Calif., his opponent. They were tied when the regular 72 holes had been completed Sunday.

Mehlhorn brought cheers from the large gallery that followed the golfers when he chalked up a three on the sixteenth hole and another three on the seventeenth.

HAGBERG MAKES NEW PIN RECORD IN THREE GAMES

ROLLS SEASON HIGH TOTAL OF 652; COLTS ROLL HIGH TEAM COUNT OF SEASON

SMRAKER'S TEAM WINS THREE FROM COTTAGE GRILL; WASHERS BEAT STUDY CLUB

Smraker's Colts, rolling the season's high five-man three-game total of 2826, took the Cottage Grill into camp for three games last evening.

These Colts certainly were out to win, as every man hit over 523, top count being "Cully" Nelson's 592. On the other hand, "Pesky" DeRocher was the only Cottage Grill man hitting, his total being 608.

The Study Club romped home with the first game with the Automatic Washers, but they didn't have a chance in the last two stanzas.

"Speck" Hanson split himself out of a nice total, while "Lute" Hagberg, doing the prettiest bowling seen in the league this season, hung up the high three-game total of 652.

His bowling was consistent, the low game of 213 and high game 225, showing only a 12 pin spread.

The matches this evening will bring together the Peterson Clothing Co. and the Bye Clothing Co. teams, and the Shela Oil Co. takes on the Alley Kids.

Both matches will be interesting, as the rivalry is keen.

Last evening's box score is as follows:

B. H. S. CAGE MEN PLAY AITKIN IN FIRST GAME DEC. 14

TWO LETTERMEN INELIGIBLE; KASCH DRILLS CANDIDATES IN STORE FLOOR

NEW SYSTEM OF DIVISION OF ATHLETES OUTLINED BY COACH

The first hard practice of the season for the Brainerd high cage men was held Monday evening in the store on Front street in preparation for the first game of the season Friday, December 14 at Aitkin.

Drills that were possible on a small floor were given the team Monday evening. Many phases of the game will be left undone because of crowded conditions.

What Brainerd lacks in facilities may be made up in the men themselves. An optimistic spirit prevailed among the candidates and a determination to learn as many plays as is possible to be given on the small floor.

The team this year is minus four lettermen from last year's team, LaCourse, Welliver, Hautala, and Barnes. All were valuable men and will be missed at certain phases of the game, each one having contributed much to Brainerd's success last season. Gabiou and Fuller are it present ineligible through school work requirements.

Coach Kasch today announced new places in the Brainerd high school athletics for the winter season.

There will be three basketball squads.

Squad A will include members of the first team, reserves and members of the second team.

Squad B will include football men left for another year and who are not able to make squad A.

The purpose of these divisions is to make the men faster and more aggressive for football and at the same time a possibility of developing in basketball. It will prove a double advantage, it being tried for the first time.

Squad C will include a select group of freshmen to work on fundamentals of basketball. This group will be the future players in the Brainerd high school new gymnasium. The fundamentals can be carried out at the store floor. Conditions may warrant the addition of another squad.

Coach Kasch requested today that all boys see him so they can be placed in their proper squads. The boys are asked to report faithfully to drills because it will be to their interests and to the future interests of the Brainerd high school.

The DAIRY

CORRECT FEEDING NOW PAYS DOUBLE

"Start now to prepare for next winter's milk checks."

A. J. Cramer, dairy husbandman at the University of Wisconsin, is reminding the members of the state's 167 cow testing associations, that "the feed and care given the dairy herd during the late summer when pastures are short will have a big influence on the production of the cows several months later." This, he feels, is especially true of the fall freshening cows.

The dry weather during middle summer has resulted in short pastures. As a result many dairy cows are needing additional feed in order to keep up their milk flow and body weight. A drop in milk flow often reduces the income from the herd to such an extent that there is no profit left for the dairyman.

The specialist advises feeding a grain mixture to all high producing cows even on the best of pasture and adds that after pasture gets short all cows should receive grain or silage in addition to the pasture if profitable returns are to be expected. He calls attention to the experience of many of the 4,000 farmers who are keeping close watch of their feeding and profits through cow testing association work.

The cow that is dry and will freshen in the fall is in position to receive the worst setback from dry pastures, Cramer believes. It is common knowledge to dairymen that if a cow is thin when she freshens her production will suffer during the entire lactation period following. It is just as true but not as generally known that the thin cow will have a lower test than if she were in good flesh while milking.

'My Word! Fawncy!'

That's the way Lady George Wellesley received report over trans-Atlantic telephone that her 18-year-old sister-in-law, Lady Anne Wellesley (above), was engaged to H. R. H., the Prince of Wales. She denied the rumored betrothal and said that Lady Anne was too ill to be questioned.

resulting from a film condition make it doubly important to keep her in good flesh while dry.

A grain mixture recommended for the milking herd consists of 200 pounds ground barley, corn or hominy, 100 pounds wheat bran, and 100 pounds of linseed meal, cottonseed meal or gluten feed. One pound of this should be fed for each four or five pounds of milk produced. For the dry cow the feeding official advises equal parts by weight of ground oats, ground barley, or corn, wheat bran and a high protein feed. From three to eight pounds daily should be fed, depending on condition of the cow.

Lists Seven Problems Imminent in Dairying

Seven important economic problems face the dairy industry today and it is the job of the scientist and teacher to lead in their solution. K. L. Hatch, assistant director of agricultural extension at the University of Wisconsin, told the American Dairy Science association, at its recent meeting in Madison. His list of subjects, toward which more research should be directed, consists of economy of production, herd testing, recognition of quality, establishment of a new set of standards for dairy products, packaging of cheese, and the use of electricity.

"Each of these problems is imminent," he declared, "and should challenge both branches of dairying—production and manufacturing. They are economic problems and can only be solved with facts which are not now obtainable."

In research experiments, more emphasis should be centered on such factors as labor costs, dry cow expenses, depreciated herd costs, bull costs, and capital charges, such as interest, taxes, insurance, and depreciation.

In dairy manufacturing, uneconomical practices still prevail, Hatch said. Small, unimproved, and wholly inefficient plants are the rule, and little effort is made to give to the consumer the type of product which appeals to his taste.

More All-American Timber

By QUIN HALL

THE business of selecting these mythical All-American elevens is always a ticklish proposition. No football writer can see every star player in action. The season is much too short to allow this and while intercollegiate bookings help the expert picker in his task, the whole thing still remains very much of a hit and miss undertaking.

The East, South, Middle West and Pacific Coast sections all have their star material and even in the face of the fact that various experts now pick a first, second and third team, the task of naming All-American aggregations will continue to be a rather unsatisfactory barometer of actual ranking. It has always seemed to us that a purely sectional rating could be arrived at with greater efficiency and considerably more accuracy but even then it isn't nearly as simple as taking a tumble off a low roof.

The experts who call off their All-American selections probably have their chief difficulty in the backfield positions. This year—as always—there has been a horde of good backs driving their cleated shoes into the turf, and seemingly, it would be a tough task to have to select four players to make up the best backfield in the country. Herculean—we might say.

Take a glimpse at a few:

Among the leading Middle Western candidates for All-American recognition is Jack Chevigny, the Frenchman, who is helping out Knute Rockne's Notre Dame Irishers. Chevigny has developed into a great back, and he has played consistently brilliant football all season and is still at it as the Irish wind up their season against Southern California Saturday at Los Angeles.

Other Middle Western backfield players who are worthy of more than a passing glance are McLain and Glasgow, of Iowa; Nagurski, Nebraska; Cusiner, Wisconsin; Welch and Holm, Nebraska; Welch, Purdue; Holmer, Northwestern; Brazill, Detroit U.; Bennett, Indiana; Eby, Ohio State; Niemiec and Collins, Notre Dame, and Timm, Illinois.

Howard Harpster, of Carnegie Tech, is one of the best all-around backs in the Eastern sector. Harpster is a speed demon and an excellent kicker and forward passer. The Pittsburgh "hoof" may not be as large as some of the other colleges represented in football but the team always gives a good account of itself. Other famous Eastern backfield players include Cagle, of the Army; Garvey, Yale; Witzmer, Princeton; Al Cornsweat, Brown; Baysinger, Syracuse; Bennett, Princeton; Halicki, Bucknell; French, Harvard; Strong, N. Y. U.; Clifton, Cornell.

Navy; Scull, Pennsylvania; Marsters, Dartmouth, and that pair of ground gainers from Georgetown, Provincial and Mooney.

In the far West there are such famous ball carriers as Lom, California; Hoffman and Lewis, Stanford; Albers, Denver U.; Hughes, Oregon State, and Williams, of Southern California with Hibbs, of the same school, mentioned despite the fact that he is not a regular backfield man, being shifted from tackle to end.

Clarence Keefe, of West Virginia, stands out as one of the best plunging backs in the South. A player of the Joesting type, few lines have been able to withstand the head-on batterings of this high scorer of the Southland.

Other ground gainers from below the Mason and Dixon line are Mizell and Thomason, Georgia Tech; Armistead, Vanderbilt; Barring, West Virginia; Bume, Southern Methodist; Peake, Virginia Poly; Crabtree and Bower, Florida; McCrary, Georgia, and Snyder, Maryland.

And we've probably overlooked some deserving grid warriors, at that. But it's enough to show that the picker of the best backs in the United States has a man sized task on his hands.

And we still insist that it isn't nearly as simple as falling off a low roof. Nay, rather, it isn't that simple by a long shot.

NATIONAL BASEBALL ASSOCIATION OPENS ANNUAL MEET

500 BASEBALL MEN FROM U. S., CANADA ATTEND

SELDOM HAS THERE BEEN LARGER ATTENDANCE AND LESS ACTION

WHISPERING CAMPAIGN PRODUCED NO TRADES OR DEALS OF NOTE

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 5.—With more than 500 baseball men from the United States and Canada in attendance, the National Association, which embraces the thirty minor leagues, formally opened its annual meeting here today.

Seldom has there been a larger attendance, and less action. A whispering campaign through the corridors of the King Edward hotel has produced no trades or deals of consequence.

The International League, the Pacific Coast League and the American Association went into the meeting with a united front against any attempt to force upon them the universal draft, or "right to selection," as the majors prefer to call it.

A number of minor league officials had resolutions to propose embodying acceptance of the draft by all minor leagues, but the Class AA magnates had been working quietly and effectively during the last two days and anticipated no difficulty in maintaining their previous opposition to any such proposition.

If the National Association, in which each minor league has one vote, succeeded in passing any legislation contrary to the three big Class AA associations, the latter were prepared to withdraw and form a baseball organization of their own.

Leaders of the opposition to the universal draft felt, however, that such drastic action would not be necessary.

They had canvassed the field and believed before the meeting opened that they had the weight of opinion on their side.

One of the few deals consummated during the two days of conversation which preceded the opening of the meeting was that in which the Cleveland Indians obtained Jimmy Zinn, a right handed pitcher, from Kansas City, in exchange for George Gehren, outfielder, two unnamed players and cash.

Dairy Facts

Most cream separators will do a much better job of skimming the milk when it is warm.

The herd bull should be tied up or be penned away from the herd until, at least, November 1, as it is very important to avoid having cows freshen during the warm months.

The usual farm-grown ration does not contain enough protein for a good milk-producing ration. For instance, a ration made up of mixed hay, corn silage, cornmeal, oats and bran is lacking in protein, but contains an excess of carbohydrates and fat.

When the milking is done by machine, the rubber tubes and teat cups, after washing, should be placed in a disinfectant solution, allowed to soak until the next milking, and then rinsed out again with clean water before use.

By using pure-bred bulls it is possible to build a herd of scrub cattle into a high quality herd. This has been demonstrated at the South Dakota State college experiment station through approximately 15 years' investigation.

Balloon's Height Limited

There is a limit to the height to which a balloon can ascend. The balloon rises because of the buoyancy of the air, and as the distance from the earth increases the atmosphere becomes more and more rarefied.

Prehistoric Fishing

Prehistoric man fished with flint hooks and used things of raw hide for line. One type of hook was needle-like in shape. After the fish swallowed the hook the caveman by a jerk on his line turned it crosswise in the fish's mouth.

Historic Tree

There is a mulberry tree planted by John Milton on the campus of Christ college, at Cambridge, England.

Decorative Attributes

Usefulness and beauty, color and originality—the correct attributes of modern decoration.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL SEASON IS UNDER WAY

SPECTACULAR SHOTS BY 'BILL' MEHLHORN CARRY OFF TROPHY

Honolulu, T. H., Dec. 5.—(U.P.)—Spectacular shots on the sixteenth and seventeenth greens of an 18-hole play-off enabled "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn of Chicago to win the first annual Hawaiian $5,000 open golf championship here yesterday.

Mehlhorn's card of 73 was two strokes better than that turned in by Fred Morrison of Alhambra, Calif., his opponent. They were tied when the regular 72 holes had been completed Sunday.

Mehlhorn brought cheers from the large gallery that followed the golfers when he chalked up a three on the sixteenth hole and another three on the seventeenth.

HAGBERG MAKES NEW PIN RECORD IN THREE GAMES

ROLLS SEASON HIGH TOTAL OF 652; COLTS ROLL HIGH TEAM COUNT OF SEASON

SMRAKER'S TEAM WINS THREE FROM COTTAGE GRILL; WASHERS BEAT STUDY CLUB

Smraker's Colts, rolling the season's high five-man-three-game total of 2826, took the Cottage Grill into camp for three games last evening.

These Colts certainly were out to win, as every man hit over 523, top count being "Cully" Nelson's 592. On the other hand, "Pesky" DeRoche was the only Cottage Grill man hitting, his total being 608.

The Study Club romped home with the first game with the Automatic Washers, but they didn't have a chance in the last two stanzas.

"Speck" Hanson split himself out of a nice total, while "Lute" Hagberg, doing the prettiest bowling seen in the league this season, hung up the high three-game total of 652.

His bowling was consistent, the low game of 213 and high game 225, showing only a 12 pin spread.

The matches this evening will bring together the Peterson Clothing Co. and the Bye Clothing Co. teams, and the Sinclair Oil Co. takes on the Alley Kids.

Both matches will be interesting, as the rivalry is keen. Last evening's box score is as follows:

Use Bright Bindings

Library workers have found that little-read books often become more popular when dull colored or soiled covers are replaced with brighter bindings. A special cover, coated with a material similar to a chemical finish used on motor cars, has been introduced. It is waterproof, finger marks and stains may easily be washed off, and it can be obtained in a wide variety of colors and designs.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

B. H. S. CAGE MEN PLAY AITKIN IN FIRST GAME DEC. 14

TWO LETTERMEN INELIGIBLE; KASCH DRILLS CANDIDATES IN STORE FLOOR

NEW SYSTEM OF DIVISION OF ATHLETES OUTLINED BY COACH

The first hard practice of the season for the Brainerd high cage men was held Monday evening in the store on Front street in preparation for the first game of the season Friday, December 14 at Aitkin.

Drills that were possible on a small floor were given the team Monday evening. Many phases of the game will be left undone because of crowded conditions.

What Brainerd lacks in facilities may be made up in the men themselves. An optimistic spirit prevailed among the candidates and a determination to learn as many plays as possible to be given on the small floor.

The team this year is minus four lettermen from last year's team, LaCourse, Welliver, Hautala, and Barnes. All were valuable men and will be missed at certain phases of the game, each one having contributed much to Brainerd's success last season. Gabiou and Fuller are at present ineligible through school work requirements.

Coach Kasch today announced new places in the Brainerd high school athletics for the winter season.

There will be three basketball squads. Squad A will include members of the first team, reserves and members of the second team.

Squad B will include football men left for another year and who are not able to make squad A.

The purpose of these divisions is to make the men faster and more aggressive for football and at the same time a possibility of developing in basketball. It will prove a double advantage, it being tried for the first time.

Squad C will include a select group of freshmen to work on fundamentals of basketball. This group will be the future players in the Brainerd high school new gymnasium. The fundamentals can be carried out at the store floor. Conditions may warrant the addition of another squad.

Coach Kasch requested today that all boys see him so they can be placed in their proper squads. The boys are asked to report faithfully to drills because it will be to their interests and to the future interests of the Brainerd high school.

The DAIRY

CORRECT FEEDING NOW PAYS DOUBLE

"Start now to prepare for next winter's milk checks."

A. J. Cramer, dairy husbandman at the University of Wisconsin, is reminding the members of the state's 167 cow testing associations, that "the feed and care given the dairy herd during the late summer when pastures are short will have a big influence on the production of the cows several months later." This, he feels, "is especially true of the fall freshening cows."

The dry weather during middle summer has resulted in short pastures. As a result many dairy cows are needing additional feed in order to keep up their milk flow and body weight. A drop in milk flow often reduces the income from the herd to such an extent that there is no profit left for the dairyman.

The specialist advises feeding a grain mixture to all high producing cows even on the best of pasture and adds that after pasture gets short all cows should receive grain or silage in addition to the pasture if profitable returns are to be expected. He calls attention to the experience of many of the 4,000 farmers who are keeping close watch of their feeding and profits through cow testing association work.

The cow that is dry and will freshen in the fall is in position to receive the worst setback from dry pastures, Cramer believes. It is common knowledge to dairymen that if a cow is thin when she freshens her production will suffer during the entire lactation period following. It is just as true but not as generally known that the thin cow will have a lower test than if she were in good flesh while milking.

'My Word! Fawncy!'

That's the way Lady George Wellesley received report over trans-Atlantic telephone that her 18-year-old sister-in-law, Lady Anne Wellesley (above), was engaged to H. R. H., the Prince of Wales. She denied the rumored betrothal and said that Lady Anne was too ill to be questioned. (International Illustrated News) resulting from a film condition make it doubly important to keep her in good flesh while dry.

A grain mixture recommended for the milking herd consists of 200 pounds ground barley, corn or hominy, 100 pounds wheat bran, and 100 pounds of linseed meal, cottonseed meal or gluten feed. One pound of this should be fed for each four or five pounds of milk produced. For the dry cow the testing official advises equal parts by weight of ground oats, ground barley, or corn, wheat bran and a high protein feed. From three to eight pounds daily should be fed, depending on condition of the cow.

Lists Seven Problems Imminent in Dairying

Seven important economic problems face the dairy industry today and it is the job of the scientist and teacher to lead in their solution, K. L. Hatch, assistant director of agricultural extension at the University of Wisconsin, told the American Dairy Science association, at its recent meeting in Madison. His list of subjects, toward which more research should be directed, consists of economy of production, herd testing, recognition of quality, establishment of a new set of standards for dairy products, packaging of cheese, and the use of electricity.

"Each of these problems is imminent," he declared, "and should challenge both branches of dairying—production and manufacturing. They are economic problems and can only be solved with facts which are not now obtainable."

In research experiments, more emphasis should be centered on such factors as labor costs, dry cow expenses, depreciated herd costs, bull costs, and capital charges, such as interest, taxes, insurance, and depreciation.

In dairy manufacturing, uneconomical practices still prevail, Hatch said. Small, unsanitary, and wholly inefficient plants are the rule, and little effort is made to give to the consumer the type of product which appeals to his taste.

MAY DISRUPT $25,000,000 A YEAR RUM RING

INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY FEDERAL GRAND JURY IN BUFFALO

AGAINST CANADIAN LIQUOR IN- TERESTS AND THEIR AL- LEGED AGENTS

Washington, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Indictments returned by the federal grand jury in Buffalo against Canadian liquor interests and their alleged agents in this country were believed by prohibition officials here today to have disrupted a $25,000,000 a year rum ring.

Prominent Canadian distillers, including officials of Hiram Walker-Gooderham and Worts, Ltd., the largest distillery in Canada, were named in the indictments. Twenty-five individuals and one distillery were indicted on charges of conspiracy to violate the laws of the United States.

Evidence given the grand jury by United States Attorney Richard H. Templeton at Buffalo resulted from a prolonged investigation by federal agents.

Before the indicted individuals can be arrested, it will be necessary to negotiate with Canada a treaty making conspiracy to violate liquor laws an extraditable offense. Efforts are under way to draft such an extradition treaty, but whether Canada will agree to such a treaty was considered doubtful here.

Several banks and telegraph companies, it was intimated, may be shown to have aided the liquor runners. Liquor interests, it was explained, have had telegraph agents to transmit between the two countries orders for liquor.

Canadian liquor interests, the division said, have not only aided and abetted smuggling of liquor across the international border but have actually sent sales agents into the United States.

GOVERNMENT TO SHOW SURPLUS NEXT JUNE

The French ratify the agreement, this country do likewise.

The amount to be spent for flood control projects next year on the Mississippi and its tributaries was estimated at $31,000,000 in the budget.

Construction projects authorized were estimated to require $28,040,000 in the forthcoming year, and the budget also carries $15,041,950 for the army's building program. The estimates for 1930 also provided for technical and other buildings for the air services of the army and navy a total of $4,500,000.

Numerous Increases
Increased appropriations were recommended for the Agriculture, Commerce, Interior, Justice, Post Office, State and War Departments. Decreases were proposed for the Labor, Navy and Treasury Departments.

Retirement of the public debt in the next fiscal year was estimated at $553,067,692, or an increase of $10,624,921 over the amount retired in the current fiscal year. Interest on the public debt was given as $640,000,000, a reduction of $35,000,000, made possible by retirement of the third Liberty loan bonds.

The amount recommended for prohibition enforcement was reduced by $96,304.

The Veterans' Bureau is given $6,000,000 for construction of additional hospital facilities in the fiscal year 1930 and another $2,000,000 is authorized. Two million is carried in the budget for carrying out the five-year program for houses and offices of ambassadors and ministers abroad.

Army and Navy Cost
Estimated appropriations for the Army and Navy in 1930 total $648,511,300, which was the figure set after excluding all non-military items so that this amount represents the expenditures for purely military purposes.

Air interests of the government were said to be developing in a satisfactory manner, and the budget made provision for expenditure in the fiscal year 1930 of $433,000,000 for air activities. This expenditure is shared by the Army, Navy, Commerce, Agriculture, Post Office departments, the Coast Guard and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

MAY DISRUPT $25,000,000 A YEAR RUM RING

INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY FEDERAL GRAND JURY IN BUFFALO

AGAINST CANADIAN LIQUOR IN- TERESTS AND THEIR AL- LEGED AGENTS

Washington, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Indictments returned by the federal grand jury in Buffalo against Canadian liquor interests and their alleged agents in this country were believed by prohibition officials here today to have disrupted a $25,000,000 a year rum ring.

Prominent Canadian distillers, including officials of Hiram Walker-Gooderham and Worts, Ltd., the largest distillery in Canada, were named in the indictments. Twenty-five individuals and one distillery were indicted on charges of conspiracy to violate the laws of the United States.

Evidence given the grand jury by United States Attorney Richard H. Templeton at Buffalo resulted from a prolonged investigation by federal agents.

Before the indicted individuals can be arrested, it will be necessary to negotiate with Canada a treaty making conspiracy to violate liquor laws an extraditable offense. Efforts are under way to draft such an extradition treaty, but whether Canada will agree to such a treaty was considered doubtful here.

Several banks and telegraph companies, it was intimated, "may be shown to have aided the liquor runners. Liquor interests, it was explained, have had telegraph agents to transmit between the two countries orders for liquor.

Canadian liquor interests, the division said, have not only aided and abetted smuggling of liquor across the international border but have actually sent sales agents into the United States.

GOVERNMENT TO SHOW SURPLUS NEXT JUNE

the French ratify the agreement, this country do likewise.

The amount to be spent for flood control projects next year on the Mississippi and its tributaries was estimated at $31,000,000 in the budget.

Construction projects authorized were estimated to require $28,040,000 in the forthcoming year, and the budget also carries $15,041,950 for the army's building program. The estimates for 1930 also provided for technical and other buildings for the air services of the army and navy a total of $4,500,000.

Numerous Increases
Increased appropriations were recommended for the Agriculture, Commerce, Interior, Justice, Post Office, State and War Departments. Decreases were proposed for the Labor, Navy and Treasury Departments.

Retirement of the public debt in the next fiscal year was estimated at $553,067,692, or an increase of $10,624,921 over the amount retired in the current fiscal year. Interest on the public debt was given as $640,000,000, a reduction of $35,000,000, made possible by retirement of the third Liberty loan bonds.

The amount recommended for prohibition enforcement was reduced by $96,304.

The Veterans' Bureau is given $6,000,000 for construction of additional hospital facilities in the fiscal year 1930 and another $2,000,000 is authorized. Two million is carried in the budget for carrying out the five-year program for houses and offices of ambassadors and ministers abroad.

Army and Navy Cost
Estimated appropriations for the Army and Navy in 1930 total $648,511,300, which was the figure set after excluding all non-military items so that this amount represents the expenditures for purely military purposes.

Air interests of the government were said to be developing in a satisfactory manner, and the budget made provision for expenditure in the fiscal year 1930 of $433,000,000 for air activities. This expenditure is shared by the Army, Navy, Commerce, Agriculture, Post Office departments, the Coast Guard and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

"All of the Willys-Overland plants are now in production on the new Whippet four and six cylinder models. The new models are of longer wheelbase with larger and more beautiful bodies."

OIL STATION BANDITS ESCAPE WITH $300

Two Drive in to Station at Fort Ripley for Gas, Rob Attendant of All Money

HEAD TOWARDS BRAINERD
Was Second Robbery in Consecutive Nights in Brainerd District

A second oil station robbery in this district within two consecutive nights was executed at 6:30 p. m. yesterday when two bandits, bearing similar description to the ones who held up the Standard Oil Co. station, corner Broadway and Front streets Monday evening, robbed the Leon Clouse oil station at Fort Ripley of $300, escaping in a Dodge sedan car on Highway No. 27 towards Brainerd.

The two men drove up to the oil station from south on the highway and requested five gallons of gasoline.

As John Blackburn, attendant, complied with the order one of the men walked into the oil station and as the attendant returned to collect money for the gas he was confronted with a gun and the stern demand "To pass over all the money and pass it over quick."

Leon Clouse who operates the oil station under a Standard Oil Company lease was coming to the station from his house at the rear at the time of the robbery and witnessed the bandit scooping up all bills and silver in sight. Mr. Clouse shouted but the bandit paid no attention, continuing to take all the money from the cash drawer.

With a curt "Thank You" for the five gallons of gasoline which the attendant filled the tank the two continued on their way north.

Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and his deputies conducted a search for the car and its occupants throughout the county while the Brainerd police department maintained a close watch throughout the city.

Radio station WCCO was notified and broadcasted a description of the robbery and details of the robbery.

The car, of dark blue color bore a North Dakota license.

The bandit who carried the gun wore a red checked mackinaw, a gray cap and was about 5 feet 6 inches tall. His age was given as about 37 years. The other bandit, driver of the car, was slim and believed to be about 30 years old.

To date no trace has been found of the two bandits who held up the Standard Oil Co. station, Broadway and Front Monday evening, escaping with $53.80.

The two were described as wearing rough clothes. Although no car was in sight the men were believed to have had a car waiting south from the station on Broadway.

Sheriff Theorin and Chief of Police Templeton posted deputies on Trunk Highway No. 27 and No. 2 and stopped every car and examined them. No trace was found of the robbers. Mr. Clouse, in his excitement, on telephoning to Sheriff Paul Felix of Little Falls, Morrison county, gave the description of the car as a touring car instead of a sedan. Sheriff Felix drove from Little Falls to Fort Ripley and stopped every touring car, but left the sedans go by.

Mr. Clouse had three guns in his home, but feared to shoot at the robber inside the station as he might have hit his own employee.

The sheriff of Wadena county, at Wadena, in a report to Sheriff Theorin says robberies recently perpetrated at Wadena and surrounding territory appear to have been carried out by the same pair which operated at Brainerd and Fort Ripley.

Standard Oil company stations are protected by insurance which offers these rewards:

$100 reward for arrest and conviction of person or persons robbing a station.

$1,000 reward for arrest and conviction of person or persons if a station attendant is killed in a robbery attack.

NO EXISTING PARTNERSHIP

Jury Returns Verdict in Interesting Beaver Case in District Court

CONCERNED BEAVER RANCHING

Flood of River Causes Loss of Several Beaver Followed by Disagreement

A unique jury case was tried before Judge Fesler, at the court house on Monday and Tuesday, the same being an action by E. F. Andberg, of Crosby, against Perry E. Johnson and Walter J. Barthiaume, wherein Andberg claimed that in June, 1928 a partnership was entered into between the above three parties to trap, ranch and market beaver.

The plaintiff and Barthiaume had several state permits to trap numerous beaver in this district and Mr. Johnson for some time had operated the Little Pine Beaver Ranch, some 16 miles north of Crosby, and it was claimed that several beaver were trapped by these parties and kept on Johnson's ranch until the high water in the Little Pine River on the ranch, when some of the beaver were lost, caused a disagreement.

Johnson alleged that the contemplated partnership was never completed, nor the terms agreed upon for the purchase of his ranch and his beaver, and that he retained and cared for the beaver so that he would be paid for his work in ranching and caring for them.

The jury was instructed to find whether a partnership existed, and they found, after deliberating for one hour and 20 minutes, that a partnership did not exist, as alleged by Mr. Johnson.

The members of the jury were: Mrs. P. G. Fallquist, Mrs. G. Halvorson, Mrs. Joe Britton, Mrs. A. Zimmerman, Mrs. Ralph Long, Mrs. S. H. Nelson, Mrs. W. C. Mannis, Mrs. Fred McGivern, Mrs. Fred Backen, Mrs. Helen Holm, Mrs. I. Bjornas and C. W. Solomon.

F. E. Murphy, of Murphy & Cook, of Crosby, represented Mr. Andberg and Hilding Swanson, of Swanson, Swanson & Swanson, represented Mr. Johnson. Mr. Barthiaume was not represented.

OIL STATION BANDITS ESCAPE WITH $300

Two Drive in to Station at Fort Ripley for Gas, Rob Attendant of All Money

HEAD TOWARDS BRAINERD

Was Second Robbery in Consecutive Nights in Brainerd District

A second oil station robbery in this district within two consecutive nights was executed at 6:30 p. m. yesterday when two bandits, bearing similar description to the ones who held up the Standard Oil Co. station, corner Broadway and Front streets Monday evening, robbed the Leon Clouse oil station at Fort Ripley of $300, escaping in a Dodge sedan car on Highway No. 27 towards Brainerd.

The two men drove up to the oil station from south on the highway and requested five gallons of gasoline.

As John Blackburn, attendant, complied with the order one of the men walked into the oil station and as the attendant returned to collect money for the gas he was confronted with a gun and the stern demand "To pass over all the money and pass it over quick."

Leon Clouse who operates the oil station under a Standard Oil Company lease was coming to the station from his house at the rear at the time of the robbery and witnessed the bandit scooping up all bills and silver in sight. Mr. Clouse shouted but the bandit paid no attention, continuing to take all the money from the cash drawer.

With a curt "Thank You" for the five gallons of gasoline which the attendant filled the tank the two continued on their way north.

Sheriff Claus A. Theorin and his deputies conducted a search for the car and its occupants throughout the county while the Brainerd police department maintained a close watch throughout the city.

Radio station WCCO was notified and broadcasted a description of the robbery and details of the robbery.

The car, of dark blue color bore a North Dakota license.

The bandit who carried the gun wore a red checked mackinaw, a gray cap and was about 5 feet 6 inches tall. His age was given as about 37 years. The other bandit, driver of the car, was slim and believed to be about 30 years old.

To date no trace has been found of the two bandits who held up the Standard Oil Co. station, Broadway and Front Monday evening, escaping with $53.80.

The two were described as wearing rough clothes. Although no car was in sight the men were believed to have had a car waiting south from the station on Broadway.

Sheriff Theorin and Chief of Police Templeton posted deputies on Trunk Highway No. 27 and No. 2 and stopped every car and examined them. No trace was found of the robbers. Mr. Clouse, in his excitement, on telephoning to Sheriff Paul Felix of Little Falls, Morrison county, gave the description of the car as a touring car instead of a sedan. Sheriff Felix drove from Little Falls to Fort Ripley and stopped every touring car, but left the sedans go by.

Mr. Clouse had three guns in his home, but feared to shoot at the robber inside the station as he might have hit his own employee.

The sheriff of Wadena county, at Wadena, in a report to Sheriff Theorin says robberies recently perpetrated at Wadena and surrounding territory appear to have been carried out by the same pair which operated at Brainerd and Fort Ripley.

Standard Oil company stations are protected by insurance which offers these rewards:

$100 reward for arrest and conviction of person or persons robbing a station.

$1,000 reward for arrest and conviction of person or persons if a station attendant is killed in a robbery attack.

NO EXISTING PARTNERSHIP

Jury Returns Verdict in Interesting Beaver Case in District Court

CONCERNED BEAVER RANCHING

Flood of River Causes Loss of Several Beaver Followed by Disagreement

A unique jury case was tried before Judge Fesler, at the court house on Monday and Tuesday, the same being again at issue by E. F. Andberg, of Crosby, against Perry E. Johnson and Walter J. Barthiaume, wherein Andberg claimed that in June, 1928 a partnership was entered into between the above three parties to trap, ranch and market beaver.

The plaintiff and Barthiaume had several state permits to trap numerous beaver in this district and Mr. Johnson for some time had operated the Little Pine Beaver Ranch, some 16 miles north of Crosby, and it was claimed that several beaver were trapped by these parties and kept on Johnson's ranch until the high water in the Little Pine River on the ranch, when some of the beaver were lost, caused a disagreement.

Johnson alleged that the contemplated partnership was never completed, nor the terms agreed upon for the purchase of his ranch and his beaver, and that he retained and cared for the beaver so that he would be paid for his work in ranching and caring for them.

The jury was instructed to find whether a partnership existed, and they found, after deliberating for one hour and 20 minutes, that a partnership did not exist, as alleged by Mr. Johnson.

The members of the jury were: Mrs. P. G. Fallquist, Mrs. G. Halvorson, Mrs. Joe Britton, Mrs. A. Zimmerman, Mrs. Ralph Long, Mrs. S. H. Nelson, Mrs. W. C. Mannis, Mrs. Fred McGivern, Mrs. Fred Backen, Mrs. Helen Holm, Mrs. I. Bjornas and C. W. Soleman.

F. E. Murphy, of Murphy & Cook, of Crosby, represented Mr. Andberg and Hilding Swanson, of Swanson, Swanson & Swanson, represented Mr. Johnson. Mr. Barthiaume was not represented.

Peaks of Desire

by Kane O'Day

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

JERRY DUNN, reporter, falls in love with Ann Tremaine, wealthy debutante. He takes her to live at his boarding house, and introduces her to a new world. She is attracted to Steve Harrison, a husky young mechanic of whom Jerry is jealous. Ann gets a job in a small theatre owned by Nick Pagalos, and later asks her employer to hire Steve. One night Pagalos makes love to Ann, and in the battle which ensues between him and Steve, the Greek is made to realize his error. That night Steve confesses his love to Ann, and they embrace. Steve tells Ann he is leaving his job and going into the trucking business. In the meantime a blonde has been looking for Ann at the theatre. Ann realizes it is Maizie Thompson, an ex-sweetheart of Steve's.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXII.

ANN and Steve entered the rooming house, their joint home, together. A strip of light showed under Jerry Dunn's door and she bade Steve good night with a nod; his feet were heavy, his face unhappy as he climbed the stairs to his own abode on the floor above. Ann tapped lightly on Jerry's door.

"Come."

He got up from the typewriter, where he had been working on one of his numerous manuscripts. The room was more spacious than her own and the chairs were more comfortable. The day-bed and the bookshelf made it look less like a bedroom.

He shook hands with her and she noticed a buoyancy about him, the absence of tension from his eyes. If he were a young man distraught by love he gave a very good imitation of a casual, pleasant host. "Sit down and rest yourself—smoke, drink and be merry."

She noticed the cracked ice, glasses and several bottles on his table. "I'll have a cigarette but I don't think I'll drink this evening, if you don't mind."

"That's not hooch—it's bottled fruit juice and absolutely non-alcoholic. 'How things been breaking for you since I've been gone?'"

It occurred to Ann how little she really knew about Jerry Dunn. For instance, she did not know whether he was an habitual drinker. He had spoken familiarly of speakeasies, but apparently he was addicted to soft drinks.

She took a cigarette and settled back in her chair. "I didn't know you were on the wagon," she said curiously.

He grinned. "I'm reforming all down the line," he said. "I've even

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

JERRY DUNN, reporter, falls in love with Ann Tremaine, wealthy debutante. He takes her to live at his boarding house, and introduces her to a new world. She is attracted to Steve Harrison, a husky young mechanic of whom Jerry is jealous. Ann gets a job in a small theatre owned by Nick Pagalos, and later asks her employer to hire Steve. One night Pagalos makes love to Ann, and in the battle which ensues between him and Steve, the Greek is made to realize his error. That night Steve confesses his love to Ann, and they embrace. Steve tells Ann he is leaving his job and going into the trucking business. In the meantime a blonde has been looking for Ann at the theatre. Ann realizes it is Maizie Thompson, an ex-sweetheart of Steve's.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXII.

ANN and Steve entered the rooming house, their joint home, together. A strip of light showed under Jerry Dunn's door and she bade Steve good night with a nod; his feet were heavy, his face unhappy as he climbed the stairs to his own abode on the floor above. Ann tapped lightly on Jerry's door.

"Come."

He got up from the typewriter, where he had been working on one of his numerous manuscripts. The room was more spacious than her own and the chairs were more comfortable. The day-bed and the bookshelf made it look less like a bedroom.

He shook hands with her and she noticed a buoyancy about him, the absence of tension from his eyes. If he were a young man distraught by love he gave a very good imitation of a casual, pleasant host. "Sit down and rest yourself—smoke, drink and be merry."

She noticed the cracked ice, glasses and several bottles on his table. "I'll have a cigarette but I don't think I'll drink this evening, if you don't mind."

"That's not hooch—it's bottled fruit juice and absolutely non-alcoholic. 'How things been breaking for you since I've been gone?'"

It occurred to Ann how little she really knew about Jerry Dunn. For instance, she did not know whether he was an habitual drinker. He had spoken familiarly of speakeasies, but apparently he was addicted to soft drinks.

She took a cigarette and settled back in her chair. "I didn't know you were on the wagon," she said curiously.

He grinned. "I'm reforming all down the line," he said. "I've even
